Dear Jean:

I do not know whether you still have any papers or books or documents relating to your mother's work in Belgium, Poland, etc. which you might consider placing with some of the other Kellogg papers in the Hoover Institution. As you possibly know those people there hope to collect every item in existence of documentary material relating to the C.R.B. and the A.R.A. etc., etc.

I think that the place at Stanford is the repository of a great deal of documentation but there may be things that you have which you'll be glad to place in safekeeping and where they will get proper treatment.

Yours sincerely,

PERRIN C. GALPIN

The wings of the owl are very strong and are used to catch birds. They have a sharp hooked beak which is used to tear the bird apart. The wings are also used to fly. The owl has strong legs feathers on the wings are very strong and are used to protect the owl from the cold.

Dear Sean:

Yesterday I read the enclosure from Sunday's N.Y. Times, about the Curries. You may well have seen the article before you get this note. All the time I was reading your Mother's face and her interest in the Curries and in Poland came vividly to me.

And so I send on to you my best wishes to you and James for a good Christmas and a fine New Year.

Sincerely with our affection,

Perrin Galpin

Dear Jean —

Last month Professor Deane Keller made portrait of me — charcoal and other proper materials. The head and shoulders only. Now I know what I look like at least to one artist.

During my sitting in his little place in Pelham Bay School it came out that I know your parents and you and he told me that you had been one of his pupils. He wished me to forward his best wishes and compliments.

I might add that his portrait of me is indeed a great success. No one of my relatives or friends, who have seen it, have any suggestions or possible corrections. The verdict of the ad hoc jury is unanimous.

With my good wishes to you and to Tim (or James)

Sincerely

Penin Salpin

Dear Team:

You wrote me a good and rewarding letter on October 20. What you have thought and said about the present management of the Moon Institution does not surprise me. I have been out of tune with Glenn Campbell for some time - maybe I am a bit liberal and he wasn't and isn't. I resigned from the Advisory Committee some months ago and in fact I am in purgatory or better I have been ostracized by the people who took over the management of The Belgian American Educational Foundation, in 1965 or was it earlier. So do keep those valuable papers relating to your Mother and Mme Léonie and others for the time being, maybe they'll find a happy home, after yours.

I sent a word to Deane Ketter and he wrote me - It is nice to know that her life [Jesus] is happy and contented. I did not know that she and her husband had a gallery. Maybe some day I'll write her for more news.

With all good wishes

Dear Team:

You good letter of the 15-th here.

You know I am prejudiced in favor of Yale and Deane Keller too. I call Tom Angell a friend and he was on a CRB Foundation Committee, I think. That's one reason why I think more people would have a chance to see and use your Mother's papers at Yale than at either West Branch or at Stanford. I know Roy Banks too but he is not really in control of any of the library business.

So there I am, at the moment.

While I know few people at Yale today — except the President, Kingman Brewster, I do plan to go back to my sixtieth reunion and I expect to see a few octogenarians there in June.

Thank you, I get on pretty well.

So with best wishes

Sincerely

Permit Galynn

Dear Jean:

It is good to hear from you and the news in your letter of March 11 is fine. Now you have made up your mind and can get busy on the job only you can do.
I am sure Jean Ketter will be pleased.

It so happens that I do know President Brewster for he is a good friend of my younger daughter, Lucy, and her husband Bill Moorhead. In fact I have picnicked with the Brewsters at their place at Martha's Vineyard.

Certainly the best thing to do is for you to offer the Charles Kellogg Collection to Yale. You have the title to the papers and all and it is up to you.
Of course I'll try to help where I can. Sincerely with all good wishes

Dear Sean -

You certainly wrote a good and persuasive letter to Kingman Brewster and I am sure he will come through front and center.

Your letter came before noon today and I have given only a once-over to it. May I make one guess - in the section headed "Belgium" you mention important letters from several Headquarters of the Belgian Army. I think it was the Headquarters of the German Army in Charleville, France.

Hunch for you - sincerely

Dear Jean:

Good news in your letter of the eighth.

As I understand your plans you will be in New York after your New Haven visit probably on May 27 and the following days. May I invite you to luncheon at The Yale Club in New York on one of those days, perhaps on the 27th? I have a grandson who is to graduate from St Paul's School on the 29th and I may go to Concord, N.H. [But I doubt it.] The Yale Club is just East of Grand Central at 50 Vanderbilt Ave.

I went to a memorial service for your Father in Hartford and I think it was in The beautiful chapel of Trinity College. I am sure you have copies of the book about your Father that the B.A.R.E. published. I was really the editor under your Mothers supervision but I did not put my name on the book because I did not have a real contribution to make. I can't find my copy here however, so I do have an interest in Kellogg's or varied generations.

Best wishes

Fern Galpin

Dear Jean -

That luncheon visit with you was a pleasure for me. I should have told you so long ago. Somehow I feel that there are some other matters we might well talk about. And next time bring Jim with you.

Next week I go to New Haven and will call on The L. Marin.

With all good wishes
Sincerely

Dear Jean:

My memory fails me again. I can't remember whether I wrote to tell you that on June ^{12 or} ~~13~~ I called at the Yale Library and talked to Mr. Kahn for some time. Mr. Rogers was in California for a wedding. I believe Mr. Kahn understands much of the story that made you so helpful to Yale. There certainly is enough material for a good article - maybe a thesis - on that Kellogg material. Anyway you have started good things.

Unfortunately I did not find time to see dear Keller. Anyway I did enjoy my reunion.

With all good wishes to you both,
Sincerely Perrin Galpin

Dear Jean:

Enclosed is a clipping from yesterday's New York Times telling of The death of Mrs. Meyer. You may well have heard of this more directly but it shows I did remember you in spite of my failure to acknowledge your good letter of July 13.

I am writing from Buffalo Bay, Madison, Conn. where there is much coming and going with the family of Moorheads — my younger daughter, Lucy, her husband Bill and four children and an old dog. I'll return to Pelham next week.

Best wishes to you and Tim

Sincerely

Dear Jean -

Your letter of the second came in and I wish to report that I havent been in New Haven for some time - I should be going there some time this month and my nephew - and lawyer - Sam Salpin wants me to drop in and sign a new will. I think I'll make it all right but I am fairly sure I won't be able to go to the Yale Library.

At the end of February I had an heart fibrillation and was in the hospital for nine days. Everything is going well now. My doctor knew exactly what to do.

and I am doing what he tells me to do as far as I can. I am on a salt free diet but then I live near Long Island Sound which is full of salt water.

About the Charlotte Kellogg papers
I am sure they will be properly cared for and used, too, when the right researcher comes along.

I just heard that Mr. Herbert Hoover's private library of scientific books has been presented to The Hornbold Library at Claremont by Herbert Hoover III and the Hoover family.

all the best to you and James

Sincerely

Percy Lyle
